These factors are beyond the control of Autism Navigator and Gurpharma Global.

Customer Responsibility

Customers are responsible for determining whether products can legally be imported into their country, complying with local regulations, obtaining required documentation, and paying applicable duties, taxes, and fees.

Customs and Import Restrictions

Customers acknowledge that customs regulations vary by country and may change without notice. By using this service, customers confirm that they have reviewed and understood the International Shipping & Customs Notice displayed on the Autism Navigator website.

Delayed, Refused, or Undelivered Shipments

If a shipment is delayed, refused, returned, destroyed, seized, or otherwise affected by customs authorities or import regulations, Autism Navigator and Gurpharma Global shall not be responsible for customs decisions, government actions, import denials, additional fees, or resulting delays.

Product Availability

Medication and supplement availability may vary based on manufacturer inventory, export regulations, supply chain conditions, and local restrictions.
